DAHLIA AND GLADIOLUS LIST

1924

RALPH E. HUNTINGTON

PAINESVILLE, OHIO

DAHLIAS

For several years I have been growing Dahlias, selecting from more than a thousand different varieties the kinds that are best adapted for general garden culture. My experiments have proved that many varieties, especially the lighter colored Cactus and Decorative Dahlias, are distinct failures in the northern and middle states and more than 250 or 300 miles from the Atlantic seaboard. The varieties in this list are "survivals of the fittest," and will be found to do well wherever Dahlias can be grown at all. Those who have "no luck with Dahlias" will do well to try them. The fields have been carefull rogued, discarding all sorts having yellow centers and other undesirable traits.

At the prices here quoted, the tubers will be sent by mail or express, charges prepaid.

PEONY FLOWERED DAHLIAS

Tall growing, loose-petaled, large flowered and free blooming. One of their chief advantages over the other types lies in their big, fluffy, aggressive aspect which makes them of great value for landscape use. All varieties are long stemmed, airily graceful and in every way pleasing as cut flowers; while many have those soft, tender shades particularly lovely under artificial light.

Cleopatra. Semi-double; brilliant red, splashed with yellow towards base of petals. Exceptionally free blooming. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

Geisha. A rich, gorgeous commingling of scarlet and gold; the flowers loosely arranged with wide, curled and twisted petals. This is the most sensational and one of the very best of the class. 75c each, $7.00 per dozen.

Great Britain. Numerous rather narrow, pointed and slightly twisted petals make up a most attractive fluffy flower of good size; color, clear warm mauve. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

H. Hornsveld. Full-petaled, loose, decorative shape; the partly folded petals showing an alternation of carmine-rose from the under side, and gilded salmon pink above. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

Hollandia. Dark rose, almost a blue. This particular shade is rare in Dahlias. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

King Leopold. Inexpressibly lovely with its broad, fluffy flower heads swaying backwards and forwards on long stems; exceedingly free and continuous bloom, with two to three rows of petals. Color, soft, luscious canary, slightly tinted with primrose and cream, 35c each; $3.50 per dozen.

Queen Wilhelmina. Immense, fluffy flowers of pure white, with yellow center. 35c each, $3.00 per dozen.

King of Autumn. A charming combination of salmon, tan and old gold so pleasing not only in the sun, but equally under the lamps of night. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

Mannheim. Four to five inch, three-rowed flowers of the loose decorative type; cherry salmon suffused with rose, under side bright rose. The general effect of a row of nodding stems is sparkling; showing first salmon, then rose, as the wind blows. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

CACTUS DAHLIAS

In form the blooms of the Cactus Dahlias strongly resemble chrysanthemums. The petals are long, narrow, incurved, and frequently twisted, a combination which gives the blooms a graceful appearance. Cactus Dahlias are generally better than the Show Dahlias, and the varieties here offered are the best bloomers and the most desirable in the respective colors.

Brunhilde. A handsome violet-purple; wide, loose, recurved and somewhat twisted petals.

Countess of Lonsdale. An old and very popular variety. Longest season and freest bloom of any Cactus type; flowers very large, complete and perfect. Color, an exquisite warm blending of amber and salmon-pink.

Else. A charming new variety with a combination of delicate colors; buttercup yellow at base, gradually passing to amber, finished with a tip of Tyrian rose.

Floradora. Early and free flowering. Rich mahogany red, even darker at center.

Galathea. A new Cactus of the type with broad-based petals in very formal arrangement; a very pleasing shade of soft pink. 50c each.

Golden Eagle. Tall growing, with long dark stems. Flower large, fine-petaled, orange tan. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

H. Shoesmith. Numerous slender, folded rays, with high-built dark center; flowers medium to large and quite free; a cheerful scarlet. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Keyne's White. Creamy white.

Lawline. A beautifully formed flower of large size; pure white, with a suggestion of blush at center. One of the best white Cactus for cutting.

Pink Pearl. Full, perfect form, with blunt quills, slightly waved. Lilac pink with lighter tips and aureole; button center of deep rose.

Prince of Yellows. Pure saffron yellow, perfect form, and liberal in its bloom during an opportune season.

Standard Bearer. Bright, pure scarlet. Flowers large, thick and full to center, of symmetrical and perfectly round form, petals semi-quilled.

Strahlen Krone. Very large and full; brilliant cardinal with purple button center and rose reflex.

Unless noted, 20c, $2.00 per dozen. By express, $12.00 per 100.

DECORATIVE DAHLIAS.

The flowers of this class are usually large, all but open faced, with long, flat petals. They habitually bloom with great freedom and the individual flowers make a gorgeous display in the field besides furnishing magnificent cut flowers.

Bonny Blue. Is the nearest approach to a regular blue as yet produced in Dahlias. It is not washy, but a full, strong, solid color; a little darker at the compact center. In form—perfect, full, round, short quilled, almost identical with the show type; profuse blooming capacity, long stems and long keeping, it is all that can be desired for a reliable cut flower, in a shade of color everybody around here seems to like. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

Clifford W. Bruton. Large, loose petaled, canary.

Delice. A warm tone of lilaceous pink overlaid on white, the full center shaded a deeper hue and each petal point just nicked with silver.

Easton. A very striking and enjoyable red variety of medium size, but full, even petalage, and free-blooming habit; bright turkey-red. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Mad. Van den Dacl. A charming variety suggestive of the water lily in its form, delicate coloring and the way it snuggles amidst the upper foliage. White, suffused with lavender and cream. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Miss Minnie McCullough. Here is a dainty sort; the delight of occasional connoisseurs who find in its rich copper and blood-orange tints the satisfaction of a taste for rare combinations, and odd expressions. The flowers are liberally supplied, of good size and excellently adapted to artificial light. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Mont Blanc. Very large creamy white, with unusually broad, flat petals, decidedly recurved.

Eventide. A valuable cutflower type, of large size, perfect form, and with long rigid stems. Although essentially white, there is just enough of tender rose flushing the margins of the petals to give the flower a charming air of delicacy and distinction. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

DAHLIAS—Continued

Hortulanus Fiet. A "giant" decorative with an abundance of broad petals, the whole symmetrical flower averaging 8 inches across. Its exquisite color distribution beggars description; but is roughly a delicate shrimp pink pointed with gold and faintly clouded with red and yellow tones. 75c each, $7.50 per dozen.

Jack Rose. Color, rich crimson-red, with maroon shadings at center. Very showy in the field.

Mad. A. Lumier. Distinct and showy variegated sort, one of the freest bloomers; semi-double flowers of white, blotched with crimson toward the end of petals, extreme tips a rich violet red. 25c each, $2.50 per dozen.

Thompson. Tall, with dark foliage; long black stems. Protruding, conspicuous bloom; distant effect very striking. Very large, full-petaled, somewhat recurved; brilliant scarlet, darker toward center. 35c each; $3.50 per dozen.

Oregon Beauty. One of the outstanding new decorative sorts which combines giant proportions, long, stiff stems and profusion of bloom with a wonderful brilliancy. Its color is intense oriental red suffused with garnet; a golden sheen over all. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

Princess Juliana. Pure, waxy white flowers of medium size and attractive form. A prolific cut-flower.

Yellow Colosse. Giant. Solid primrose yellow; one of the most dependable and satisfying yellow varieties in the decorative class. Flowers of large size, perfect form and liberal production. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Unless noted, 20c, $2.00 per dozen.

"SHOW" DAHLIAS.

This type is the most formal and perfect in shape, composed of short, stiff, numerous quills of varying character. They make excellent compact bouquets and usually outlast the other types.

A. D. Livoni. Warm rose-pink, perfect flowers, with quilled petals which nearly overlap at the ends. New kinds come and old kinds go, but Livoni can never be spared from a Dahlia list selected for popular cut flowers.

Arabella. Primrose, tipped and shaded old-rose and lavender.

Chas. Lanier. A very perfectly formed, broad flower of deepest yellow, the largest yellow in this class.

Cuban Giant. Giant. Flowers 6 to 7 inches in diameter, dark, glowing crimson shaded maroon. A tall, strong grower with projecting flower stems. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

"Dee-Lighted." One of the very largest and best in this class, the deep quills evenly arrayed about a tight center; ivory white. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Dorothy Peacock. Large, perfect flowers of bright sea-shell pink. Blooms early, freely and continuously. 50c each, $5.00 per dozen.

Eclipse. Flowers large and full, crimson-scarlet.

Grand Duke Alexis (Giant). Very large and full, with long, thick quills overlapping at the ends. White, slightly tinged and blotched lavender; the most chaste and beautiful of all. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Maude Adams. An early and very free blooming sort, on the order of Susan, but larger and less globular. Very dainty; white, with a slight lavender suffusion inclined to focus at center. 35c each, $3.50 per dozen.

Perle of Holland. On the order of "Snow-storm," extremely free, and holding up to form better than many whites.

Princess Victoria. Large, round fully quilled flowers of perfect form and soft, rich yellow color. This and the next variety are dependable, year after year, for a good show of unadulterated yellow.

Queen of Yellows. Perfect form, solid yellow.

Red Hussar. Tall, bushy, upright; a handsome landscape variety, or for one color bouquets. Of rigidly formal show type. Its medium sized flowers gleam like rubies at pleasing intervals, above a setting of very dark green, crinkled foliage unrivalled among its fellows.

Snowball. Perfect ball shaped, full and compact, of large size, and upright. Color bluish white.

Susan. Extraordinarily free-blooming; with large, shapely flowers long-stemmed and lasting; a very attractive mingling of rose-pink and white. One of the best for solid bouquets of delicate pink. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

White Dove. Good sized, round and compact flowers of glistening white; each petal fringed deeply.

Yellow Duke. A free flowering, long stemmed form of Grand Duke; its full quilled blooms of primrose-yellow being exceedingly soft and pretty. 30c each, $3.00 per dozen.

Unless noted, 20c each, $2.00 per dozen, $12.00 per 100 by express.

POMPOM DAHLIAS.

Of medium to small size, but firm, compact and long lasting; invariably with long smooth stems, and blooming with the greatest profusion. Especially good for small bouquets, sprays or dwarf beds.

Bobby. Deep plum.

Catherine. Rich golden yellow; perfectly double.

Little Prince. Bold and striking; from richest crimson-maroon to varying striped combinations of crimson, scarlet and white.

Little Beauty. Miniature Livonias; little round, fully quilled balls of pure pink. This variety makes up beautifully in wreaths, sprays or any design requiring a small, dainty flower.

Prince Charming. Cream, heavily tipped purple.

Snowclad. Perfect show type; pure white with a slight lavender pink center. 20c each, $2.00 per dozen.

SELECTED MIXED GLADIOLI

Mixture No. 1. While not all ruffled, many of the best ruffled sorts are represented here, as well as fine plain petaled. No better mixture of large flowered sorts can be bought. Per dozen $1.25, per 100 $9.00.

Mixture No. 2. This is made up of large flowering sorts, mostly plain petaled. Contains a good assortment of the Kunderd sorts, and also of other American and best Holland items also. A remarkably fine mixture for dozen 75c, one hundred $4.50.

Mixture No. 3. Contains what we have termed "DeLuxe," all Primulinus. This is the result of selecting the best of the Kunderd "Orchid Mixture," now dropped, and adding many named varieties. A better Primulinus mixture is not possible. Dozen $1.25, one hundred $9.00.

Mixture No. 4. This, with many additions, is what has been, and is now, sold by many as "Orchid Mixture." Far better than the original "Orchid Mixture." Per dozen 75c, per 100 $5.00, per 1000 $40.

Mixture No. 5. For those who want plenty of flowers at a low price, or for seed stores for counter sales. All primulinus. No new varieties, but many medium priced named sorts in it. Per 100 $3.00, per 1000 $27.50.
